Transforming Defense

... Working definition

Office of Force Transformation

Elements of Transformation

- ☑ Continuing process
- ☑ Creating/anticipating the future
- ☑ Co-evolution of concepts, processes, organizations, and technology
- ☑ New competitive areas/competencies; revalued attributes
- ☑ Fundamental shifts in underlying principles
- ☑ New sources of power
- ☑ Broadened capabilities base

- New Strategic Context
- Broadened Threat Context
- Technological Threats Facilitated by Falling Barriers to Competition

Vision: Broad and sustained competitive advantage

Transforming Defense

...Compelling need

Office of Force Transformation

- New strategic context

New Theory of War based on information age principles and phenomena

New relationship between operations abroad and homeland security

New concept/sense of security in the American citizen

- Broadened threat context

State/Non-State

Nodal/Non-nodal

Symmetric/Asymmetric

Traditional/Unrestricted

- New technological threats facilitated by the falling barriers to competitive entry

Immediate accessibility to highly capable low cost IT

Opens key operational domains to competition: space, sea, cyberspace

To the extent we do not transform, we are at risk

Transforming Defense

...Elements of strategy

Office of Force Transformation

- Transform from Industrial Age to the Information Age
Implement Network Centric Operations
- Ensure sustained competitive advantage
Assure Allies
Dissuade competitive entry
Underwrite deterrence
Implement countervailing strategies
- Broaden the capabilities base
Operational, Technical, Industrial
Create new competitive areas
Revalue competitive attributes for the information age
Decrease capabilities cycle time
- Leverage advantages and opportunities
Manage the devolution of “sunset” capabilities and processes

Achieve Speed and Agility vice Optimization

Within the next 10 years, some adversaries will likely have the ability to use long-range precision strike weapons such as ballistic and cruise missiles to deny our use of fixed military infrastructure, such as ports, airfields, and logistical sites.

Global Trends

Office of Force Transformation

Information Age

- Short Cycle Time
- New Competencies
- Adaptive Planning
- Integrated Joint
- Interdependent

Globalization II

- Developed Rules
- Mature Markets
- Narrowing Customer Base
- Security=Defense

Globalization III

- Emerging Rules
- Market Opportunities
- New Customer Base Emerging
- Security=All Else+Defense

Industrial Age

- Long Cycle Time
- Well Developed Tools/Processes
- Deliberate Planning
- Deconflicted Joint
- Tortured Interoperability

Expanding Competition

Office of Force Transformation

$$\text{Policy Outcome} = f \{ \text{Power}, \text{Moral Principle} \}$$

U.S. power is unmatched

- Therefore, U.S. policy will be attacked through its moral principles (legitimacy, international law, etc.)

If the frontiers of National Security can be everywhere and are not territorial borders but fault lines within societies, then...

- The nexus of foreign and domestic security policy is intelligence
- We must be able to look and operate deeply within societies

Assured Access includes the domains of political victory

- Speed of modern warfare creates a continuum, not a succession of phases

Global Trends

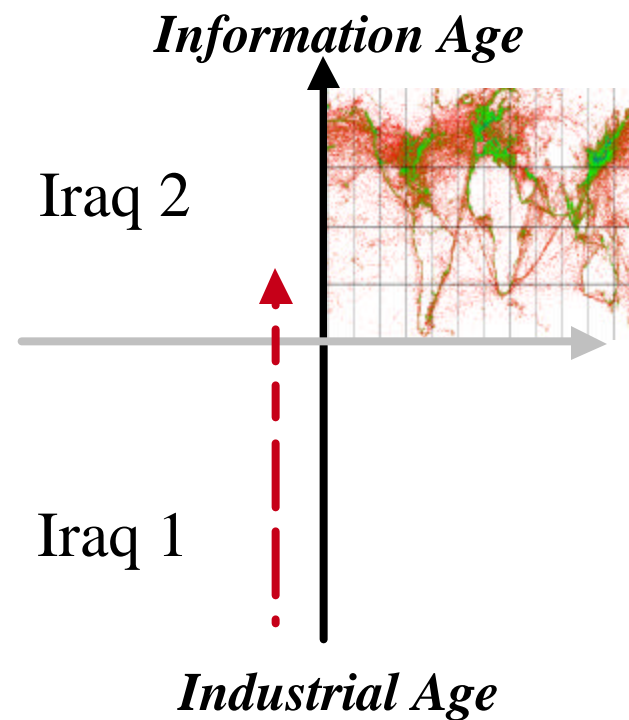

...Military Response

Office of Force Transformation

The Future Force:

- More expeditionary (including lighter, more lethal)
- More networked
- Designed to leverage the exterior positions (precision from distance as sensors move in)
- Leverages increasingly persistent ISR
- Tighter sensor-shooter timelines (sensing, C2, fly-out)
- Values Information Superiority (information operations)
- Expanded unmanned capabilities (UAV, UCAV, UUV, robotics)

Global Trends...Threats

...Strategic Response

Office of Force Transformation

Strategic Capabilities:

- More Preventative- Less Punitive
- Achieve unambiguous warning earlier
- More SOF-Like characteristics
- A Deter Forward Force
- An Intel/Surveillance-based force
- Coping with systems perturbations

Military Response to Information Age: Network Centric Warfare

Office of Force Transformation

Translates an Information Advantage into a decisive Warfighting Advantage

Information Advantage - enabled by the robust networking of well informed geographically dispersed forces

Characterized by:

- Information sharing
- Shared situational awareness
- Knowledge of commander's intent

Warfighting Advantage - exploits behavioral change and new doctrine to enable:

- Self-synchronization
- Speed of command
- Increased combat power

Office of Force Transformation

The New Rules

- Fight first for information superiority
- Speed of command
- Access to information: shared awareness
- Dispersed forces: noncontiguous operations
- Demassification
- Elimination of process lines
(e.g. - fusion of ops, intel & logistics or organize, deploy, employ & sustain)
- Elimination of structural lines
(e.g. - Joint ops at the small unit level)
- Self-synchronization
- Alter initial conditions at higher rates of change
- Compression of levels of war

Warfare Elements

- Fire - Non-lethals, Directed Energy, Redirected Energy
- Maneuver - Sea basing, vertical battlefield, lift for operational maneuver
- Protection - Urban Operations, “Bug-to-Drug” Cycle Time
- C2&C – Joint Interdependency vs. Interoperability
- ISR - Demand-centered Intel, Tactically Responsive Space
- Logistics - Joint demand-centered logistics

WASHINGTON W HISPERS

Vice Adm. Art Cebrowski knows how to rock the boat. It all started in August when he ran war games at the Naval War College in Newport, R.I.

Cebrowski added some small, turbocharged PT “street fighters” to the fleet. The boats helped the friendly force win the simulated war –35 days early. But when Cebrowski briefs the Pentagon this month about the results, big-ship admirals plan to say he’s all wet, deriding the street fighters as “little f---ing ships” – LFS in DoD lingo. “If the next major naval battle is fought in Narragansett Bay,” sneers one admiral, “street fighters will be decisive.”

Land Warfare: Trends

Office of Force Transformation

- The decisive domain is the most complex
- Retreat to complex domain favors defense
- Offense oriented open terrain ➡ forces become tactically unstable
- Correct tactical instability with information, speed of response, active defense, non-lethals

Chains vs. Networks

Office of Force Transformation

Chain

Too brittle, simple pattern, simple control, scaled

“business end” most poorly connected, hard to reconfigure or change flow

Network

Very robust, complex pattern, complex control, scale free

“business end” best connected, natural to reconfigure or change flow

What do these have in common?

Industrial Age

- Success = Scale + Scope
- Top Down - Centralized
- Vertical Integration
- Information Hoarding
- Local Awareness
- Arms Length Relationships
- Make and Sell
- Inwardly Focused

- New Behaviors
- New Competencies
- New Relationships

Global Trends

Office of Force Transformation

Globalization II → Globalization III

- Static, bipolar “market”
- Bulk of population in 3rd World
- Limits on security “exports”
- Beliefs in Conflict: Political Ideology
- Ordering principle = Great Power War; yet none since 1945

- Also bifurcated, but very fluid
- 4 Billion in Core, 2 Billion in Gap
- “Unlimited” global demand for security exports
- Beliefs in Conflict: Religion/culture
- Warfare now simultaneous across system, state and individual levels

Proliferation of WMD

Office of Force Transformation

Transforming Defense

...Evidence of transformation

Office of Force Transformation

- Increase our capability to dominate in the “Sensor War”
- Reduce or eliminate the enemy’s ability to create “No Man’s Lands”
- Compress and seamlessly integrate the cycle for planning, organizing, deploying, employing and sustaining U.S. forces
- Establish new command structures that leverage networked capabilities
- Turn an information advantage into a competitive advantage (decision superiority)
- Radically reduce the logistical demands of deployed forces
- Create concepts and capabilities to operationalize Information superiority
